Urbana Man Leaves Wife

An Urbana man recently left his wife after a heavy storm to find out if any damage had been done to the fences on his farm. He was glad to return to her with the information that every strand was in place.

Needless to Say, It Was an American Fence

For the American is the fence that stands the roughest weather and toughest wear—that resists hardest attacks of animals—because of its special construction of strong live wires.

The Efficiency of Buying At Home.

Did you ever stop to think what a convenience it is to have a full line of good retail stores in your own community? It enables people to see goods at any time before paying down money. In that way the purchaser detects many faults that could never be found in buying from a catalog cut. Furthermore, you get your goods when you want them without either letter writing, or without the fatigue of a journey to a big city and tramping all over its streets. It is an economy of time, car fares, human energy. Furthermore, you can do your shopping at your leisure, when you are in a mood for it, rather than in the haste and flurry of a trip out of town. In our home stores you take all the time you want to talk over your purchases and inspect goods. You can positively assure yourself that you are buying right.

Furthermore, you get more personal and intelligent attention in a home store than anywhere else. The proprietors and clerks must please home trade, or get out of business. It is human nature to take more pains for people that are known than for strangers. The home merchant will go the utmost limit to give satisfaction for defects in the goods and without irritating red tape. When locating for residence or business, people are as slow to settle in a place lacking good stores as in a place where the good is not good. If we want to draw in new residents, everyone must do his share to provide them with the conveniences of retail trade. The only way to do this is to patronize the home merchant. It is the good fortune of this community to have a line of finely equipped and attractively stocked retail stores. But if every dollar possible were spent at

CATARRH GONE

No More Hawking and Snuffling When You Breathe Hyomei.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei) is guaranteed to end the misery of catarrh. Breathe it, destroy the catarrh germs, and soon hawking and snuffling will cease.

Breathe it, and crusts will no longer form in the nose, mucus will not lodge in the throat; all inflammation will leave the membrane of the nose and throat and your head will feel clear and fine. Breathe it for coughs, colds and sore throat; its soothing, healing, antiseptic action is better than all the stomach dosing remedies in creation, and there isn't a particle of opium, cocaine or other habit forming drug in it. Complete outfit, which includes inhaler, $1. Extra bottles of HYOMEI 50 cents at B. L. Middleton and druggists everywhere.

A Case of Necessity.

A teacher desiring to test her class as to its knowledge of Irish history, interrogated the boys as follows:

"Patrick," she began, "why are you wearing a green ribbon to-day?"

"Because it's the anniversary of the great and good St. Patrick, ma'am."

"Very well. And you, Michael, why are you wearing a green ribbon?"

"Because St. Patrick is Ireland's patron saint, ma'am, and green is Ireland's color."

"Good! And now, Solomon Eckhardtstein, tell us why you in your turn are wearing a green ribbon?"

"Because, ma'am, Pat and Mike and Denny said they'd bust my snoot if I didn't."

The Schlegel Studio to be Opened Again.

On or about May 1, the Schlegel Studio will be opened by the Secary Sisters. They will make it a high-class place in every respect. This does not mean that their places in Danville and Stanford will be closed. These places will be continued as formerly. Wait for us.

Hunting the Allen Outlaws.

Few persons can be showing better spirit this week than the sheriffs and deputies who are tracking the Allen gang through the Virginia and North Carolina mountains. Hunting the Appalachian mountaineer has been called stalking the biggest of big game. It is always doubtful whether the sportsman gets his man, or the man gets the sportsman. The difficulties of life in these Virginia summits are illustrated in the experiences of Archdeacon F. W. Nave of the Blue Ridge. He tells of a young clergyman who was fired at several times, and finally warned that a certain mountaineer had threatened to shoot him at sight. He went immediately to the man's house, and called out, "I understand you are going to shoot me." The mountaineer was so taken aback that he dropped his weapon and engaged in pleasant chat.

The posse which is tracing the Allens is armed with something more offensive than hymn books, and if they find their men, will meet with a rougher reception. In spite of the aloofness of these hill people, they are scientific adepts at gun play, and to excel the Western frontiersman in quickness. The latest models of revolvers often find their way into the highlands two months after they are first issued from the factory. A government surveyor gave in Ouing a few years ago an account of the marksmanship of the Appalachian mountaineers. A half dollar was tipped in the air at a distance of 30 feet. The mountaineer shot twice, pulling the gun so quickly that no one saw him move. Picking up the coin he showed the hole clean through the center, and another furrowing the milling on the edge. The first shot must have deflected the coin, and how he hit it again was a marvel. This is the kind of thing the Allen gang pursuers are up against. These are called bloodless times, but our officers of the law must often take about the risks involved by going to war.

FOR CONGRESS.
We are authorized to announce JACK CHINN, a candidate for Congress in the Eighth District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held August 5, 1912.

THE bill repealing the tax on sugar, which will reduce the price to the consumer 2 cents a pound if the measure is enacted into law, and the bill to place a tax on all incomes of more than $5,000 a year, are two of the most important measures passed by the House of Representatives in the last quarter of a century. These sister bills, conceived and framed by Democratic Committees, were so good in fact, that eighty Republicans were forced to vote for them. "Forced to vote for them" is the correct expression, because the Republicans refused steadfastly when in power to pass such legislation, or even to consider it, but when the Democrats forced them to vote one way or the other, they were afraid to vote against either bill lest their constituents retire them to private life.

PRESIDENT TAFT, in a recent letter to Chairman Koenig, of the Maryland State Republican Committee, used this language: "I hope you will see to it that all voters are allowed to cast their ballots at the coming primaries." Apparently, it does not occur to the President that as free born American citizens they have the perfect and inalienable right to cast their votes, without waiting for Mr. Koenig or anybody else to "allow" them that privilege.

The Steel Trust investigation and the Lawrence mill strike proved beyond the shadow of a doubt, that protection does not mean good wages in this country. In practically every line of industry outside of those controlled by the tariff trusts American wages are higher than they are abroad. The trusts work their men harder, and pay them less than men similarly employed abroad receive.

HON. W. J. BRYAN has the following to say regarding his preference in the Presidential race: "The Commoner has not expressed a preference between Wilson and Clark. It would favor Clark in any State where Clark is stronger than Wilson. It would favor Wilson in any State where Wilson is stronger than Clark." So as a matter of fact, the Commoner seems to be on the fence.

THE Republicans in convention in Louisville last week carried out the Taft program in entirety and sent to the National Convention a Taft delegation, headed by Senator W. O. Bradley.

Low heels for ladies' wear are among the new things for the particular dressers. We have them. RICE & ANSOLD.

Mr. Deatherage has been in the wool business in this city, for the past sixteen years and has purchased more pounds of fleece than any man in the county. During these years Mr. Deatherage has been an active buyer and was largely responsible for the high prices paid in this county for wool. There is not a buyer in Madison who has been in the market for anything like so many years, and long experience combined with his courteous treatment and high prices paid for wool, is responsible for the enormous business done by him in this line every season.

Killed By Lightning.

Six head of large cattle, belonging to Mr. W. F. Park, were instantly killed Friday afternoon by lightning, and Mr. Carl Park rendered unconscious as a result of the shock. The cattle were on the farm of Andy McCard and were in a barn when the electric storm came. Mr. Park having also taken shelter therein. When the stroke of lightning struck the barn Mr. Park was so severely shocked as to lay in an unconscious condition for some time. Finally regaining his senses he made his way home and was not aware of the death of the cattle until next morning. Mr. Park has about recovered and his friends rejoice to know that he escaped more serious injury.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

LINCOLN'S ANSWER TO SEWARD.

By A. W. MACY.

William H. Seward and his friends were sorely disappointed at his failure to secure the nomination for the presidency in 1860. Lincoln displayed both sagacity and magnanimity when he gave his defeated rival the most important place in his cabinet. At the time Lincoln was largely unknown quantity, while Seward was a man of much experience in public affairs. Seward's friends confidently expected him to be the strong man of the cabinet, and even to overshadow the executive. Shortly after entering upon his duties he handed Lincoln a letter, containing "Some Thoughts for the President's Consideration." Among other things he suggested the necessity that some one should take the lead and grapple boldly with the situation, closing with these words: "Either the president must do it himself, or devote it upon some member of the cabinet." It is not my special province, but I neither seek to evade or assume responsibility." Lincoln answered the note the same day. He simply said, "If this must be done, I must do it." The matter was dropped then and there, and with fine discretion Lincoln kept the correspondence secret.

"Bob" Taylor's Last Words.

The last letter penned by the late Senator Robert L. Taylor, a communication to George R. Shields, of the Tennessee Society, was read to the members of the organization at a memorial service held in the Women's Christian Temperance Union building last Tuesday night. The letter was in reply to a request of the members that the noted statesman address their meeting, and the affair which was to have been the Tennessee "boomer" variety, was transformed by the death of Senator Taylor into one of eulogy.

The text of this letter has a peculiar significance, written in the humorous vein, which was one of the characteristic of the noted Tennesseean. It refers to the attempts of political opponents to "get his scalp" and states that he expected to be in Nashville "up to his ears" in politics at this time. The letter in full reads as follows:

March 16, 1912. George R. Shields, Esq., Bond Building, City—My Dear Mr. Shields: It will be altogether impossible for me to be present at the next meeting of the Tennessee Society, on April 2, as I expect to be in Tennessee up to my ears in politics. It would afford me much pleasure to do so if I had the opportunity, but in the language of the old song: "They're after me, they're after me; 'I am the individual they require.' 'They're after me, they're after me; 'To get my scalp, they say, is their desire.' R. L. T. Seward." The communication was mailed on the evening of March 16, the date of Mr. Taylor's first illness, and was the last signed by him. It will be placed in the archives of the society.—Washington Herald.

Suits for the young men, middle age and the old gentleman—ready-to-wear, one price, one quality—$16. RICE & ANSOLD.

It also makes it a felony, punishable by a term in the penitentiary for anyone to use dynamite in any stream or pond in Kentucky. Dynamite will probably hereafter look well to the banks and bends of the streams, and sets watches around the ponds before dynamiting.

Important Announcement.
We received last week several communications for publication that failed to reach us until Wednesday, consequently the articles failed to appear in that issue. THE CLIMAX goes to press about three o'clock Tuesday afternoon and all articles should be in this office not later than noon to insure publication of same. We appreciate having our friends and readers send in news items, but desire to have them white fresh, and trust that in the future all notices will be in before Tuesday noon.

Disastrous Fire.

Richmond was visited Friday morning with the most disastrous fire the city has had for many years. About five o'clock the barn of Mr. Barnett was discovered to be in flames and before the fire department could respond to the alarm, the lumber yards and mill of the Blanton-Congleton Lumber Co. were a solid blaze. The origin of the conflagration is supposed to have resulted from burning rubbish, a spark from which ignited the barn of Mr. Barnett. The fire spread rapidly, caused the flames to spread rapidly. In addition to the above mentioned, the L. & A. railroad station and Flat Rock Hotel, together with nine box cars loaded with freight, were soon reduced to ashes. The Blanton-Congleton Co. probably suffered the greatest loss. The plant and lumber consumed amounted to about thirty thousand dollars, with less than $10,000 insurance. An estimate of damage to the L. & A. could not be ascertained; Flat Rock Hotel, about $2,000. Madison Tobacco Warehouse, about $1,000. W. H. Douglas Coal Co.'s offices were considerably damaged, and several other adjacent buildings were damaged more or less. Not daunted by their great loss, the Blanton-Congleton Lumber Co. will continue with their business, and are now filling all orders on their books and taking care of new business. They have an advertisement elsewhere in THE CLIMAX, which will be to your interest to read.

Everything in men's low shoes. Come and look them over. RICE & ARNOLD.

Col. Jack Chinn Announces For Congress.

Elsewhere in today's CLIMAX will be found the formal announcement of Col. Jack Chinn, of Harrodsburg, as a candidate for Congress from the Eighth Congressional District. Col. Chinn has always proven loyal to Democratic principles, resolute in his character in his long service to that party, and his activities in behalf of the farmers and tobacco growers of the State will bring to his support many who appreciate the service so generously rendered in their behalf. As a member of the Legislature and State Senate, Col. Chinn made an enviable record, which remains an open book and unquestionably commends him to the voters for their support in the primary election in August. Col. Chinn earnestly solicits the support of the Democracy of Madison county, and if elected pledges to perform the duties of the high office with credit alike to himself and his constituents.

Art Exhibit.
For the convenience of those not being able to attend the Art Exhibit at Caldwell high school during the day the doors will be open Friday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. See notice elsewhere.

Poultry Business Booming.
Mr. A. L. Gott, the poultry man, says there has never been a time when more poultry was on the market or a time when the farmers and housewives were getting a better price than now. The New York market is flooded with yet not enough received to supply the demand. One day last week was a record breaker, 200 carloads more than ever before received in one day being the record.

Important Notice.
I wish to announce to the public that I am prepared to do stamping and furnish embroidery materials of all kinds. I have secured the patterns and flosses of Mrs. Richard Blanton and trust I may receive a part of the generous patronage formerly given him. Can be found at my home 604 W. Main street. Very respectfully,
MRS. W. EDGAR BLANTON.

Gott, the poultry man, will buy your wool. 43-1f.

Madison Stock In Contest.
The Louisville Post International egg-laying contest is being watched with great interest among the poultry fanciers over the entire country. This contest began April 1, and is being held at "Belair," the beautiful stock farm of Senator T. H. Paynter, near Frankfort. Among those classed as making "great records" as shown by the Post's published statement of Saturday, are the Barred Rocks owned by A. D. and C. D. Miller, of this city, who are tied for first place in this class. Mr. J. Coleman Neff, of Richmond, also comes in for honors. He has a pen of White Rocks that occupy third position in that class.

Deaths

The birds will sing on and the nightingale still echo its plaintive melody when the moon hangs mellow over Happy Valley, but there will be a lost chord in the minstrelsy of "Sunny Tennessee," through all the days that are yet to come, for "Bob" Taylor has hung up for aye the fiddle and the bow, and has gone out on the long journey across the Silver Sea whose placid wave never yet has "borne the image of returning sail."—From an exchange.

Mrs. Fannie Jones, wife of H. C. Jones, died at her home in this city, last Thursday, aged fifty-six years. She leaves to mourn her loss a kind and loving husband, one son, Squire Jones, and a daughter, Miss Annie Jones. Two sisters survive, Mrs. Sallie Meeks and Miss Nannie Harris, all of whom, were with her when death came. Mrs. Jones united with the Christian church twenty years ago and was a devout member of that congregation at the time of her death. She possessed a mild disposition and was ever ready to comfort those in distress. Her illness covered a period of five months and during her affliction she bore up with great fortitude. She has now gone to that land of rest, where pain and suffering are unknown. Many friends extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved family. Funeral services were conducted at the residence Saturday morning by Rev. E. B. Barnes, of the Christian church, followed by interment in the Richmond Cemetery.

Mr. Henry Jacobs, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Estill county, died at his home in Irvine Saturday, aged eighty-four years. Death was due to infirmities incident to old age. His remains were interred in the Richmond cemetery at West Irvine. Deceased is survived by several children, and his death removes from Irvine one of its most familiar figures and prominent citizens.

A telephone message yesterday morning to Mr. E. H. Bybee announced the death of Mr. Sterling of Mrs. Mary Beamstark. Her death evidently came suddenly as her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Bybee, of this city, had no intimation of her illness. The message simply announced the demise of this well known and estimable lady and at hour of going to press the particulars could not be ascertained. Mrs. Beamstark was the widow of Valentine Beamstark, of this county, who preceded her to the great beyond many years ago. She divided her time between her children at Waco and her daughter, Mrs. C. K. Oldham, of Mt. Sterling, at whose home she died. She is survived by the following children: John Waco; William, Georgetown; Mrs. W. S. Grinstead, London; Mrs. Annie Singleton, Millersburg; Mrs. E. H. Bybee, this city; Mrs. C. K. Oldham, Mt. Sterling; and Mrs. Thomas Oldham, this county.

Died Wednesday afternoon, April 10, Mrs. John Duerson, at her home on Brook avenue, after a lingering illness of many months. She was a half sister of Mr. W. L. Crutcher, of this county, and never had any other brother or sister. She was 69 years of age and a most estimable and lovable Christian woman. Besides her husband, she leaves five daughters; Mrs. James Bailey of Missouri; Mrs. John Parley, Mrs. Gordon Parrish, Misses Alice and Lena, all of whom were at her bedside when she died. Mrs. Duerson had for many years been a member of the Pond Christian church and her pastor, Elder E. C. McDougle, assisted by Rev. E. B. Barnes, conducted the funeral services Friday afternoon at the residence. Her remains were laid to rest in the Richmond Cemetery.

Boosters' Special Will Be Here Friday, April 26.

Reports received by the Cincinnati Commercial Association indicate that not only will the various cities along the route of the "Trade Excursion," April 23-26, have for visitors the special train of Cincinnati business men and the famous Weber Prize Band, but that merchants from cities that will not be visited by the trade expansionists will be on hand to greet the tourists. A number of business engagements have already been made in various places along the route of the excursion with business men from localities not included in the tour, and these are expected to be beneficial to Cincinnati as well as to the cities it which they take place. It is anticipated that the full complement of 125 reservations, exclusive of the band and the necessary employees on the special train, will have been taken by the end of this week, making this one of the most pretentious trade excursions that has ever visited any section of the South. The Boosters' Special will arrive in Richmond at 2:25 p. m., and will be met at the station by the Richmond Commercial Club and a large number of our business people and citizens generally. Everybody who can possibly do so are urged to assist in giving the Boosters a rousing reception while in this city.

The play is bright and breezy, full of ridiculous situations, full of fun, full of the most pretentious trade excursions that has ever visited any section of the South. The Boosters' Special will arrive in Richmond at 2:25 p. m., and will be met at the station by the Richmond Commercial Club and a large number of our business people and citizens generally. #### Subscribing For Stock.

Following an enthusiastic meeting Saturday of those interested in purchasing property and erecting buildings for fair purposes, papers are now in the hands of solicitors and many shares of stock have been subscribed for this purpose. The farmers and business men of the county are going to see to it that this opportunity to secure a permanent location for the annual exhibition of live stock and other products of Madison is taken advantage of. This, perhaps, will be the last opportunity to secure such suitable and convenient grounds and those who have not subscribed should take at least one share of stock, the value of which is $100. The county has consented to build good roads and the railroad company has signified its willingness to lay track into the fair grounds, leaving it now up to the people of Madison to decide regarding the perpetuation of the Madison County Fair Association.

To Consolidate Schools.
Paint Lick, Ky., April 13, 1912

EDITOR CLIMAX:
The two schools districts of the two counties of Madison and Garrard, of the two villages of Paint Lick and Lowell, are trying to be consolidated in one school and build a suitable building. Prof. J. T. Coates and the superintendents of the two counties, with their School Boards, met the citizens of Paint Lick last Saturday and Prof. Coates made a splendid address and urged the people and citizens to have better schools, better roads and raise the standard of education in the State. Mr. E. L. Woods and son, Rice, have begun a subscription for the school building and several hundred dollars have been subscribed. Our neighboring village, Kirksville, is to have a consolidated school and one at Waco, so Paint Lick does not wish to be behind our neighbors along the school line.

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

New Medicine Called Digestit Found to be Certain Relief for Indigestion and Stomach Disorder--It Digests Food that Stomach Cannot.

Perry's Drug Store has been supplied with the new remedy for stomach trouble called DIGESTIT. This new medicine has been found to be a relief for the distressing symptoms of indigestion and dyspepsia. It will digest food in remarkably short time after coming in contact with it--thereby relieving the full, uncomfortable feeling after a hearty meal. Surely it will be received with gratitude by the American public, as ninety per cent of the people in this country have indigestion. The makers of this remarkable remedy propose to demonstrate its merit beyond a question of doubt, and have authorized Perry's Drug Store to sell it with the distinct understanding that should the customer be displeased with results, they will refund the cost. Or if you are not willing to invest a half dollar on your druggist's agreement to refund it, you may send a postal to the Digestit Co., Jackson, Miss., and receive an order to your drug store for a full size 50c. package without cost. If you are a sufferer from indigestion, you can

A Despicable Character.

The Frankfort Journal says the Louisville youth who is believed to have poisoned 125 dogs in Louisville by treating liver with strychnine and throwing it into yards will probably receive a sentence in the School of Reform or the workhouse if he is convicted. There will be many lovers of dogs, and many haters of cruelty who are not especially devoted to dogs who will regret that the boy will not go to the penitentiary. Nothing is more despicable than needless brutality to animals. There is very little hope of such a boy becoming a desirable citizen unless his malevolence is due to some physical condition which medicine or surgery can correct. If he goes to prison for a short time and comes out with the character he now has, some one will have to kill him before he reaches middle age. He can never get along with normal and decent human beings.

Easter Hope.

Here is the Easter Hope as given expression in the immortal words of Victor Hugo: "I feel in myself the future life. I am like a forest once cut down--the new shoots are stronger and livelier than ever. I am rising, I know, toward the sky. The sunshine is on my head. The earth gives me its generous sap, but heaven lights me with reflection of unknown worlds. You say the soul is nothing, but the resultant of the bodily powers. Why then, is my soul more luminous when my bodily powers begin to fail? Winter is on my head, but eternal spring is in my heart. There I breathe at this hour the fragrance of the lilacs, the violets and the roses, as at twenty years. The nearer I approach the end, the plainer I hear around me the immortal symphonies of the worlds which invite me. It is a marvelous, yet simple. It is a fairy tale, and it is history. For half a century I have been writing my thoughts in prose and verse, history, philosophy, drama, romance, tradition, satire, ode and song--I have tried all. But I feel I have not said the thousandth part of what is in me. When I go down to the grave I can say, like so many others, 'I have finished my day's work.' But I cannot say, 'I have finished my life.' My day's work will begin the next morning. The tomb is not a blind alley, it is a thoroughfare. It closes on the twilight. It opens with the dawn."

You want Good County Government, don't you? The only way to get it is to elect Good Officers. It is your duty to yourselves as taxpayers to know positively which one of the candidates for the nomination for County Attorney will give the best service for the money paid him. Which Candidate's Record Is THE BEST?
